Message from the Chair of the Police Services Board

In a changing and challenging policing environment, the men and women of the Durham Regional Police are to be commended for performing their duties with integrity, pride and respect throughout 2016. Under the leadership of Chief Martin and his Command team, the DRPS achieved strong progress toward meeting organizational goals.

Building and preserving the public trust remained at the top of the Board's priority list in 2016. The 2017-19 Business Plan was finalized to establish the broad strategic direction of the DRPS for the next three years, with three overarching priorities: community safety through collaboration; excellence in core service delivery; and building the strength of our membership. Recognizing the changing demographics of the Region, and the ongoing imperative of an engaged, inclusive workforce, extensive efforts were also dedicated to enhancing the DRPS' diversity competence. And throughout 2016, the Board was actively engaged in discussions and consultations at the Provincial level regarding the modernization of the Police Services Act and improvements to the system of police oversight in Ontario. The Board promoted legislative changes that would improve civilian governance of policing, increase police accountability and efficiency, and help ensure that municipal policing remains affordable to the local taxpayer.

The Continuous Improvement Program remained a key area of focus in 2016. The Program is designed to inspire a workplace culture that values superior customer service, innovation and evidence-based decision making. Reviews of DRPS Units, functions and processes will continue to identify areas where simplification can occur and resources can be realigned.

Finally, the Board was pleased to welcome a new Deputy Chief to the DRPS, Uday Jaswal in August of 2016. A former Superintendent with the Ottawa Police Service, Deputy Jaswal's experience and leadership qualities added significant strength to Chief Martin's Command team. We look forward to his contributions for years to come.

Message from the Chief of the Durham Regional Police

The year 2016 brought many challenges to the global policing community. With a spotlight on integrity and trust, DRPS has maintained its professional delivery of programs and services.

For the first time in a number of years, the statistics for reported crime in Durham Region have gone up. In fact, the total Criminal Code violations increased more than eight per cent when compared to 2015. This could simply be an anomaly or it could be the beginning of a new trend. Whatever the case may be, I am fully confident that the women and men of the Durham Regional Police Service are working diligently to keep our communities safe for residents.

This year, we wrapped up our latest Business Plan and finalized the newest edition to guide our team. The 2013-2016 Business Plan helped us achieve an increased visual presence as we engaged the community, while focusing on our professionalism and accountability. And this was the first DRPS Business Plan to include a scorecard, in order to track our successes and identify where improvements can be made. This important evaluation tool was used throughout the course of the three-year plan and continues in the newest plan, which runs to 2019.

Please enjoy this Annual Report as snapshot of just some of the stories and statistics from this past year. You'll see our members strive to provide the best service to the residents of Durham Region, whether they are answering calls for service on the front-line, connecting with youth at community events or supporting the hours of operational and investigative excellence that has shaped 2016.

Paul Martin
Chief of Police

Police Services Board

Back (l-r): Bill McLean, Randy Wilson, Allan Furlong and Stindar Lal
Front (l-r): Bobbie Drew, Chair Roger Anderson and Rose Rockbrune

For the Durham Regional Police Services Board, the past year was marked by change and the pursuit of continued transformation.

New Leadership

The Board welcomed a new leader to the DRPS, Deputy Chief Uday Jaswal. Following the addition of Deputy Fernandes to the team in 2015, the Board has made significant progress toward renewing the Command team since Chief Martin assumed his position in 2014. The current team is a formidable group of quality leaders who will be instrumental in guiding the DRPS to continued success in the years to come.

Updated Business Plan

The Board also finalized the 2017-19 Business Plan, following extensive consultations with citizens, community stakeholders, and local and Regional Councillors. A major shift in the Business Plan is the establishment of outcome-based performance measures, which aim to assess more precisely the extent to which the DRPS is contributing to community safety. While evaluating performance remains an ongoing challenge in the police sector, the Board is committed to making improvements in this area and in 2016 a new path was embarked upon. The Board expects this new Business Plan to take the DRPS a significant step forward in evidence-based decision making.

New Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Strategic Plan

The Board oversaw the development of the Diversity, Equity and Inclusion Strategic Plan 2017-19 to fulfill its commitment to fair and impartial policing. The Plan lays the groundwork to enhance the DRPS' efforts to increase community trust and confidence, to improve operational and investigative ability, and to attract and retain the best talent. The Plan outlines five strategic goals: total engaged community; workforce reflects Region; leadership reflects Region; diversity competent members; and a secure and supportive workplace. The Board will be closely monitoring the Plan's execution to ensure the commitments are met.

Police Services Act Reform

For several years, discussions have occurred at the Board regarding the importance of modernizing the Police Services Act. In 2016, the Province reiterated its commitment to renewing this legislation, and it appointed Justice Michael Tulloch to provide recommendations on improving the police oversight system in Ontario. Over the course of the year, the Board articulated its positions on legislative change, prioritizing the need for strengthened civilian governance, greater local autonomy, alternative service delivery, and more practical and effective labour relations. The Board hopes to see legislative revisions in the year ahead.

Celebrating the 25th Anniversary of 9-1-1 Services in Durham Region

On May 1, 1991, Durham's Chairman Gary Herrema made the first 9-1-1 call in the Region from council chambers in Whitby. The state-of-the-art 9-1-1 system replaced eight separate seven-digit numbers to reach emergency services and cost $1.8 million to install.

In the first months of operation, approximately 400 calls a day were placed and emergency services were dispatched quickly to provide assistance. Since then, the Communications/911 Unit at DRPS has fielded millions of emergency calls during its 25-year history.

Once housed at Central East Division in Oshawa, the Communications/911 Unit now resides at the DRPS Operations Training Centre in Whitby. Calls placed to 9-1-1 are dispatched by DRPS to other emergency services as required. Communicators who answer these calls play an important role in providing emergency services to residents. They are the first voice heard during stressful and often intense situations. Using the technology at their disposal, Communicators can help officers, fire crews and EMS teams find people quickly and dispatch the nearest units. These well-trained professionals also keep those on the line calm as they wait for help to arrive.

“We are proud of the excellent work that is done by our Communications/911 Unit,” said Inspector Steve Jones, who heads the unit. “Their unwavering commitment to community safety is shown every day and with every call.”

It's important for residents to know that 9-1-1 should be used for emergencies only. (The non-emergency number for DRPS is 1-888-579-1520.) Communicators have fielded many calls in the past that did not warrant the use of this important service, such as asking for directions, parents requesting discipline advice for their children, and, most recently, complaints that Amber Alert notifications were interrupting television shows. Citizens should call 9-1-1 only in life-threatening situations or when there is immediate danger to life or property.

New Sworn Officers Join the Ranks

In 2016, 31 new recruits were sent to the Ontario Police College and eight experienced officers were also hired. Every one of these new officers have post-secondary school education and they bring 10 additional languages to our service. These officers are now on patrol as a new wave of recruits is set to start their training in 2017.

In 2016 the recruiting team attended 44 outreach events, and hosted 12 information sessions within the community in efforts to expand the applicant pool to reflect the community we serve.

Durham Connect

The year 2016 was a period of tremendous growth and change for Durham Connect—the collaborative initiative that brings together 32 community agencies to help people in situations of elevated risk. Weekly meetings allow agency representatives to discuss individuals and families who have precarious housing, addiction and mental health issues, as well as employment needs. The goal is to identify those with acutely elevated risk factors, and get them help in the most efficient way possible.

A total of 140 situations were reviewed by Durham Connect in 2016, with 122 being accepted by the group. This led to 230 people receiving help.

Durham Connect has plans to expand further next year with more connections to northern communities and services.

Roadway Safety

Raising public awareness through education and community engagement can have positive results throughout our community by increasing public safety and decreasing the number of incidents on our roadways.

Distracted driving is a major concern for police and community members and it continues to surpass impaired driving as the leading cause of fatal collisions on our roadways. In 2016, DRPS issued a total of 1,596 tickets for distracted driving. Education, more public awareness and increased fines for distracted driving has led to a decrease (approximately 41 per cent) in charges in 2016.

In the winter months, the Festive R.I.D.E campaign stopped 13,397 vehicles, conducted 695 roadside tests and 204 people were taken off the road for alcohol related offences. In 2016 more vehicles were stopped but fewer people were arrested in part to the combined efforts of public education, proactive policing and the rising popularity of designated driver services. The team also conducted a public safety campaign for distracted driving in which officers handed out “Don’t Text and Drive” vehicle magnets. About 5,000 magnets were handed out to motorists thanks to financial support from the Police Appreciation Dinner and Awards Night (PADAN) Committee.

DRP members continue to improve, educate and enforce the “zero tolerance” policy for Canada’s leading cause of criminal death, which includes the Last Drink Program. A partnership with the Alcohol and Gaming Commission of Ontario, the Last Drink Program identifies, educates and enforces liquor establishment where impaired drivers had consumed alcohol.

The “Do the Bright Thing” campaign promoted and reinforced pedestrian safety, including urging pedestrians to wear reflective clothing, refraining from texting or talking on their cellphone while crossing roadways and using caution when crossing the street. Partnering with the Ministry of Transportation, GO Transit and the Region of Durham Traffic Department, DRP members held information sessions and safety presentations to participants of the Durham Cycling Club and the Durham Cycling Coalition. In the fall, DRP Traffic Services officers handed out LED carabiners and pamphlets to GO Transit users at the Ajax GO Station concourse while educating the users on how both pedestrians and motorists can make our roads safer for pedestrians.

Focusing on the dangers of street racing, DRPS hosted the annual Project E.R.A.S.E. (Eliminate Racing Activity on Streets Everywhere) campaign at Canadian Tire Motorsport Park in Clarington, where they could “Take it to the Track”. A collaborative effort by 22 police services, the Ministry of Transportation and the Ministry of the Environment, as well as Nissan Canada and the Micra Race Series, together they aim to eradicate street racing across the GTA and 400 series highways.

DRP's Marine Unit, with cooperation from the provincial crown's office, combined the practice of education through vigilant enforcement. Marine officers laid 188 charges with the understanding that if the boater brought the deficient or missing item to court the charge would be dealt with prior to a trial. Not only did this save on court time, but also the time and money of the boater who received the ticket.

During the first half of 2016, members of Traffic Services, OPP Whitby and the Ministry of Transportation split enforcement time equally between regional roads and provincial highways. This joint project produced positive results by issuing 2,280 provincial offences notices, stopping 491 commercial vehicles and taking 117 commercial motor vehicles out of service, which is a considerably high number.

Collision Reporting Centre

Located at 650 Rossland Road in Whitby, the CRC is where drivers report collisions which occurred within the catchment area to Durham Regional Police.

A driver involved in a property damage only collision will report to the DRP at the CRC during regular business hours 7-days a week with the following exceptions:

- Injury or death;
- Pedestrians or cyclists;
- Criminal activity. For example, impaired driving, stolen vehicles, assault, etc.;
- Federal, provincial or municipal vehicles;
- Vehicles transporting dangerous goods;
- Damage to private, municipal or highway property; and
- Damage to third party property, such as a parked car where the owner is not at the scene or a fence.

Whitby's Collision Reporting Centre (CRC) has experienced a significant decrease in calls since the threshold for reporting property damage in a collision increased to $2,000 from $1,000 as of September 1, 2015.

In 2016, 8,569 citizens attended the CRC and of that total, 5,098 were entered into the reporting database in four-hours or less from the time of the collision. The CRC officers have increased the customer service experience for motorists by speeding up the process and incorporating an overall educational component. Across Durham Region there were 4,791 collisions reported to the CRC with 1,366 charges laid and the CRC dealt with an average of 24 people per day.

Air1 Reaches New Heights

The Air Support Unit (ASU) is responsible for airborne surveillance, target locating and identification for any incident that happens within Durham Region.

Operating a Bell 206BIII helicopter, in May 2016 the DRP Air Support Unit was honoured for achieving 10,000 incident/accident free flight hours with Air1 by Bell Helicopter, National Helicopters Inc., and Global Aerospace.

Available 24 hours a day, seven days a week, Air1 and aircrews provide the following services, weather permitting:

- response to crimes in progress for aerial containment, reconnaissance, infrared searches for missing persons, suspects and evidence, and coordination of ground response;
- observation and tracking of vehicles during police pursuits and subsequent coordination of ground resources at the termination areas;
- illumination of crime scenes, search areas, collision scenes, vehicle stops, disturbances and foot pursuits;
- rapid deployment of K-9 Units to outlying areas under emergent circumstances.

Air1 was the first unit to arrive on scene 457 times in 2016, representing a 12.4 per cent increase from 2015. The ASU participated in 919 calls for service and assisted in 131 arrests in 2016, up 33 per cent when compared to assists in 2015. The unit successfully located 202 targets during calls for service, an increase of six per cent from 2015. Success in both assists and locates is directly related to being airborne at the point of dispatch.

Good News From the Skies

In February, a passenger on the GO Train arriving in Oshawa smashed a large train window on the train car and then threatened GO staff. The male passenger exited the train and attempted to leave the area. Quickly responding to the incident, Air1 assisted the K9 Unit in effecting an arrest.

In June, a home invasion/robbery took place in Uxbridge and two male suspects were observed fleeing the scene. Air1 coordinated a perimeter of a wooded area and began coordinating a ground search of the densely wooded area. As officers were clearing the area, the Air Support Unit observed two males fleeing through the wooded area and breaching the perimeter. The males were then located and arrested by ground units.

In September 2016, an Oshawa drug store was robbed and a suspect was seen fleeing on foot. Air1 located a male running through the commercial property. The male was arrested and was identified as the male from the robbery.

Scoring High with our Business Plan

This year saw the end of the 2014-2016 Business Plan and the release of the new plan which runs to the year 2019. This document acts as a guide for the organization and sets priorities that includes Community Presence, Community Engagement, Community of our Youth, and Professionalism and Accountability.

Some achievements include:

Community Presence: The number of foot and bike patrols conducted in communities throughout the region increased and we led a multi-jurisdictional project to fight human trafficking.

Community Engagement: A recent public opinion survey conducted in Durham Region found that 78 per cent of residents are satisfied or very satisfied with the quality of police services. As well, 90 per cent of residents agree that DRPS officers are approachable.

Community of our Youth: The Youth Crime Rate decreased by 20 per cent between 2013 and 2015 and DRPS is one of only three services in Canada to offer an after-school Youth in Policing programs.

Professionalism and Accountability: The Fair and Impartial Policing program, which trains DRPS members on the science of bias and prejudice, was developed and implemented, and the Continuous Improvement Program (CIP), which is an internal corporate-wide review program, has improved effectiveness.

Joint Forces Operations

DRPS investigators play an active role in a number of provincial and federal groups known as Joint Forces Operations (JFO). It allows DRP access to connect with police services in Ontario, across Canada and even globally. Investigators can share information with officers as well as with federal and provincial authorities. Some of the JFOs we are involved with include the Provincial Asset Forfeiture Unit, the Provincial Biker Enforcement Unit (BEU); the Provincial Weapons Enforcement Unit (PWEU); the Criminal Intelligence Service of Ontario (CISO); the Provincial Anti-Terrorism Section (PATS); the Integrated National Security Enforcement Team (INSET); the Combined Forces Special Enforcement Unit (CFSEU); the Illegal Gambling Enforcement Unit; and the Repeat Offender Parole Enforcement (ROPE) squad.

Special Investigations Unit and Public Complaints

While on duty, officers are called to deal with a variety of situations and, at times, find themselves in dangerous situations. Officers are occasionally required to use force to mediate a situation and are properly trained in how much force is appropriate. In Ontario, when a person is seriously injured or killed in a police encounter, the Special Investigations Unit (SIU) must become involved.

In 2016, the SIU invoked their mandate seven times in Durham Region, compared to nine times in 2015. One case is on-going, four were closed with no further action and two were terminated and had no report filed with the Attorney General.

In 2016, there were 91 public complaints about the conduct, services or policies of the DRPS. This is down slightly from the 102 submitted in 2015. Of these, 43 were addressed by the Office of Independent Police Review Director (OIPRD) and 36 were screened out and closed on intake. The remaining seven required investigations by the OIPRD, where one was withdrawn, five were deemed unsubstantiated and one is still in the investigative stage.

The remaining 47 complaints were forwarded to the DRPS Professional Standards Unit for investigation. Of these, 17 were deemed unsubstantiated, 20 were withdrawn by the complainants, six were resolved by Customer Service Resolution, one was resolved through informal discipline and three are still on-going. One complaint was directed to York Regional Police Service, which resulted in a finding that the complaint was substantiated; however it was deemed less serious.

Use of Force

In 2016, the DRPS responded to 89,934 calls for service and in only 241 incidents did officers use force. Similar to 2015, this is less than one per cent of the total number of dispatched calls. This statistic continues to speak to the professional, strategic and purposeful manner in which our officers engage the members of our community on a daily basis. It is also a testament to the training provided to our officers and the transferability of our training techniques from the classroom to the street.

In 2016, only nine officers reported sustaining an injury while engaged in a use of force encounter.

Chief for a Day: Ada Leahy

Ada Leahy spent an exciting day visiting DRPS divisions and units as part of her duties. After being picked up in a cruiser by Cst. Heather Wilson at her school in Whitby, Ada was taken to Regional Headquarters to swear her Oath of Office in front of her family and new employees. Chief Ada was awarded the special honour after reading a compelling speech to a group of community judges on what she would do if she were the Chief.

After the change of command ceremony with Chief Paul Martin, Chief Ada spent a busy day visiting Traffic Services, Communications/911, the new East Division and state of the art Forensic Investigative Services Unit, and the Police Education and Innovation Centre. She topped off her day off with a ride over her school in Air 1, where she had the opportunity to wave to all her friends down below.

Chief Ada completed her duties when she read her essay to a crowd of 600 people during the 14th Annual Police Appreciation Dinner and Awards Night (PADAN). See pages 32 to 33.

Community Connections

DRPS officers not only patrol neighbourhoods and respond to calls for service, they also make it a priority to connect with members of the community at public events, fundraisers and school programs. For details about some of the great police and community outreach work done by members of each Division. See pages 16 to 27.

Regional Overview

DRPS patrols approximately 2,500 square kilometres of Durham Region. And with 1,200 sworn and civilian employees, it is the 10th largest municipal police service in Canada.

Operational Clearance Rates

Clearance rate is the number of incidents cleared as a percentage of the number of actual (founded) incidents.

East Division hosted a Family Safety Day and Senior's Christmas events to connect with residents both young and old. Members also attended the Clarington Library Wild Wheels event that let kids inside the special vehicles in their community. As well, the Pedal for Hope fundraiser was a big success, with East and Peterborough officers visiting more than 40 schools and raising $300,000 for cancer research.

North Division

North Division covers most of Scugog, Uxbridge and Brock Townships. Officers reach out to this large community at many local events.

Calls For Service North Division

Initial calls for service (excluding calls cancelled by dispatch, follow-up calls and workload call types).

Operational Clearance Rates

Clearance rate is the number of incidents cleared as a percentage of the number of actual (founded) incidents.

North Division hosted a Community Safety Day, which saw families learn more about local first responders, and Shredding Day, which allowed residents to have their important papers destroyed properly to prevent identity theft. Officers also attended a Cannington high school to talk about protecting yourself from crime. And another group of members raised money for a local hospital in the annual Polar Plunge dip into Lake Simcoe.

Financial Results

The vast majority of our budget is spent on wages and benefits. As a key deliverer of human services, the DRPS invests in its front-line patrol and investigative support teams. When compared to similar-sized police services, our cost per capita is very competitive. The other major expenses include: Capital (2%), Insurance and HQ Costs (2%), Materials and Services (2%), Maintenance and Repairs (2%), Communications (1%), Computer Operations (1%), Professional Services (2%), Rentals (1%), Debt Service (6%) and Uniforms and Education (1%).

Service Awards

Chief Paul Martin proudly presided over the annual Service Awards, which recognizes the men and women who provide the exemplary service that the DRP is known for.

“We are here to recognize members who have stood the test of time and made a difference. They have put in the extra effort, stayed late, got up early, met the deadline, finished the report, comforted the victim, solved the crime and stood in the cold rain for hours,” said Chief Martin. “From support and administrative roles to frontline response, every function you performed was important in the bigger picture. Every person coming to this stage tonight is a valued contributor.”

Recognizing Great Police Work

The year 2016 saw many members of DRPS recognized for the great work they do every day, both on the job and in the community. This is a small sample of some of the awards and recognition given to officers.

The Intercultural Dialogue institute of the GTA presented Cst. Scott Logan with a Public Hero Award in recognition of his commitment to reducing stigma around mental health for both the officers and those that are suffering from mental illness.

Cst. Pam Devine received the PFLAG Award for being “A Champion Against Homophobia and Transphobia.” She was honoured for her roles as our liaison officer with the LGBTQ Youth Open Doors initiative and PFLAG “Train the Trainer” facilitator.

The Canadian Heritage Foundation presented a “Beyond the Call Award for Exemplary Service” to civilian John Porco of Fleet Services for going above and beyond the requirements of day-to-day duties to provide outstanding support to those in need of assistance.

S/Sgt. Cathy Bawden was recognized by both the Ontario Women in Law Enforcement (OWLE) and the International Association of Women Police (IAWP) for her work in mentoring officers. She travelled to Barcelona Spain to meet with other female law enforcement leaders and receive her award.

The American Society for Industrial Security (ASIS) International Toronto Chapter named D/Cst. Scott Airey their “Officer of the Year.” ASIS, which is an association comprised of security professionals, honours an officer and security guards annually that go above and beyond the job.

D/Cst. Bryan Armstrong was awarded with an Ontario Medal for Firefighter and Police Bravery at Queen’s Park for his actions on a railway bridge that saved a man’s life.

D/Cst. Jason Dickson was named the DRPS K-9 Handler of the Year for 2016 for tracks that included locating an 87-year old missing woman in a wooded area.

Police Appreciation Dinner and Awards Night

There wasn't a dry eye in the house as members of the community spent an evening honouring the men and women of the Durham Regional Police. The tales of heroic acts, selfless dedication and brave responses in the face of the unknown were presented to the crowd as awards for extraordinary police work were handed out.

The 14th Annual Police Appreciation Dinner and Awards Night (PADAN) took place at Deer Creek Golf & Convention Centre in Ajax to a packed house. The theme this year, Building Bridges, celebrates the trust and collaboration that DRPS fosters between the police and citizens in order for officers to do a better of job of keeping neighbourhoods safe.

The Co-chairs of the community organizing committee, Moe Pringle and Blair McArthur, thanked every member of the police service for making a difference in the community. They also thanked all of the corporate sponsors who have made the event possible

More than $1.3 million has been raised over the past 14 years and the proceeds are reinvested into educational, community safety and outreach programs involving police officers.

2016 PADAN Award Recipients

The awards presented to DRPS officers had an emotional impact on the assembled guests:

- Cst. Brandon Stanway was presented the Mike Ewles Community Builder Award for his dedication to countless youth programs, including Algonquin Park canoe trips, and the commitment he has made to bettering their lives.
- Cst. Jack Stelwagen was rewarded for his calm and compassionate response to a fight call in Ajax where a male was stabbed. The male lost about 60 per cent of his blood and doctors credit Cst. Stelwagen for saving his life that night.
- Cst. Rob Harding was commended for his actions on the night a Canadian Armed Forces veteran was having a mental health crisis due to PTSD. The male was having flashbacks to his time in Afghanistan and threatening suicide. Cst. Harding showed him an immense level of compassion and respect.
- D/Cst. Bryan Armstrong and Aux/Cst. Clint Neuls were recognized for their brave actions that found them on a narrow walkway on a bridge about one foot away from a speeding train, trying to move a suicidal male to safety. D/Cst. Armstrong threw his body over the man as the train sped by and Aux/Cst. Neuls assisted by pulling the two to safety.
- The members who responded to a horrific collision on Highway 401 that involved 15 vehicles were praised. More than 50 9-1-1 calls were received in a short time and officers from across the Service aided at the scene, which has been compared to a war zone.
